Forms of payment accepted: Cash, Check or Credit Card via emailed PayPal Invoices. Tuition for the school year is paid by month ($35 initial payment, plus $85/month between the 1st-7th), twice a year ($400, September & February), or yearly in September ($800). For reference, this breaks down to $25/week/class. There are no options for weekly payments. Months are not prorated for late starts or early ends. There are two free weeks during the year that can be used for missed lessons. Because of the nature of class lessons, there are no makeups for student absence. Lesson notes will be sent for those absent to work on at home. For excessive weather cancellations beyond the 2 weeks, or teacher cancellations, makeup weeks are scheduled in June.

Students are expected to bring their books with them each week for class. There may not be an extra copy available at the studio since only the number of books for students are purchased. The cost of the books are included on the invoice in the month they are issued.

Practicing 4-6 days a week are required to progress in playing the piano. An accompaniment CD is included with the lesson books to replace the old-fashioned mechanical clicking metronomes with a fully-orchestrated background at three speeds. A CD player next to the piano is required for this. A quality acoustic or digital piano is best for students to learn the proper piano technique and weight, rather than an inexpensive keyboard. Please ask if there are any questions regarding particular instruments you are looking at. My 20+ years experience with the musical instrument industry gives me insight to various manufacturers and their models, so please ask if you are shopping for instruments. Acoustic pianos will require tuning so as to match the CD accompaniments. If you are looking for a piano tuner, please contact my piano tuner, Earl Stewart at (315) 778-1772.
